

LET'S KISS

Written by Joellen Hoff and Stephan Hoff

CherubimProductions - publishing
Copyright 2018

I don't know how it happens, sometimes it just does One day you wake up and wonder what it was all for, but it's not clear

Every day it's the same routine, out the door at 7:15 coffee and a hug, see you later on, but I don't know when

When we finally fall into bed With thoughts of the day running through our heads Before we close our eyes, baby

Let's kiss, like we used to kiss, kiss, I just miss, kissing you Like we used to do
Kiss, like its all brand new, kiss, before we grew used to kissing
I want to - Kiss you

Used to be that nothing would get in our way from touching each other, we'd make time every day, just to play

Now it seems that we're like a machine, stamping out a living with no time in between, but I believe its not too late

To me you're still that sexy guy, my heart skips a beat when you walk by Tonight before we close our eyes, baby

Let's kiss, like we used to kiss,
kiss, I just miss, kissing you
Like we used to do
Kiss, like its all brand new, kiss, before
we grew used to kissing
I want to - Kiss you

Tonight before we fall into bed just look in my eyes and remember when It was me and you, with nothing else to do Let's kiss, like we used to kiss, kiss, I just miss, kissing you

Let's kiss, like we used to kiss, kiss, kiss, I just miss, kissing you, Like we used to do
kiss, like its all brand new, kiss, before
we grew used to kissing
I want to - kiss you